

Close your eyes.
Cover your ears.

Imagine trying to understand the world.

Seventeen year-old Lauren is growing up in Kingwood and is deafblind. She needs help learning how to communicate and access the world around her.

There is a solution.

The world can be explained through an intervener's hands. Lauren's intervener costs her family $1000 a week and is sustained by fundraisers and donations.

You can see Lauren's amazing progress at www.HelpLaurenLearn.com.
